You'll stay in one of the three restored Italian villas – Bellorcia, Casa Ombuto, and Torre del Tartufo – all only few steps from their own heated swimming pools that afford uninterrupted views of the countryside. These villas differ in character, Bellorcia has more contemporary interiors than the classically furnished Casa Ombuto or the traditionally refurbished Torre del Tartufo. However, luxurious intimacy and a high degree of charm is delivered by all.

You can stay for 3 nights or a week. Whichever you choose your price comes on an all inclusive basis. That means your accommodation, all cooking lessons, meals and beverages.

Good to Know

The program also contains a full day culinary excursion serving as a guide to the source of Tuscan culinary specialties. The route will depend on your choice of course.
