TUSCAN TASTER

In the cantina of a beautifully restored large Tuscan villa set in hills 50km south of Florence, the Casa Ombuto Cookery School is rated one of the top ten cookery schools by the Observer. The school runs weeklong Italian and Mediterranean cooking classes, which include four hands-on cooking sessions and enough free time to relax and enjoy the surroundings. A one-day excursion to a local vineyard for wine tasting, and a trip to a local olive oil producer is included.
